

Faunal Material

We did find some food bone when we were working there [in Africville] and it was interesting to see up close after we got it back to the lab and cleaned. And looking at things using magnifiers, we could see actual cut marks, which spoke to food preparation at or near the site during occasions that were taking place.

-- Catherine Cottreau-Robins, Curator of Archaeology, Nova Scotia Museum